Athletic Advisory Council

“The USANA family has become my team. Together we are making a difference in what impacts people most their health.”

USANA Associate and Athletic Advisory Council member Jennifer Azzi - retired WNBA Star, Olympic Gold Medalist, Naismith Award Winner, and member of the Bay Area Sports Hall of Fame

The establishment of USANA’s Athletic Advisory Council, composed of top Olympic athletes, world-renowned coaches, and sports science professionals from a variety of disciplines, is dedicated to educating athletes and the public about the health-enhancing properties of nutritional supplements and issues related to banned substances. The addition of this advisory council, which will grow and expand with the company, is another benchmark illustration of the USANA Difference.
