

PHOENIX ALLIANCE

PROSPERING TOGETHER THROUGH NETWORKING AND TRAINING

Extended Bio

SOPHIE A. CHURCH

Here are only a few examples of her entrepreneurial accomplishments:

- At five years old she recruited kids from her neighbourhood by going door to door convincing their parents to enrol their child in the classical ballet classes she gave at home.
- At twelve years old she got elected by her schoolmates as one of only six team leaders for the year-end «Olympic competitions».
- At sixteen she got elected Lieutenant-Governor at a national level in the Key-Club (junior Kiwanis) and the same year managed the school's student Café.
- At eighteen, she owned and operated a classical ballet school.
- At twenty-one she managed a fashion designer's business in Manhattan.
- At twenty-four she started studying and testing out network marketing companies.
- At twenty-eight she opened her own law firm, the day following her swearing into the Bar Association.
- At thirty-one she joined USANA and the same year founded a women's business association.
- At thirty-two she also owned and operated a yoga studio.
- At the thirty-six, in 2008, she expanded her USANA business under the banner «Phoenix Alliance», and, as they say, the rest is history... in the making.
